GUERNSEY'S FIRST LIBERATION DAY

As dawn broke on Wednesday 9 May 1945, peace returned to Guernsey.

Off the coast of Guernsey lay two British destroyers, HMS Bulldog and HMS Beagle; they brought to an end five long years of German occupation of the Channel Islands. Soon after their arrival, on that memorable morning, a German armed trawler put out from St Peter Port. Aboard her were Major General O Heine, military adviser to Vice-Admiral F Hoffmeier, the German Commander-in-Chief, together with Kapt Lieutenant A Zimmermann who, rather earlier, had paid a preliminary visit to the Bulldog, aboard which was Brigadier A E Snow, in command of 'Operation Nest Egg', code name for the Liberation of these Islands. It was on board that ship that the German surrender of Guernsey took place.

Soon afterwards, an advance party of twenty two British artillerymen, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel E D Stoneman, came ashore on two small Guernsey craft, each of which wore the White Ensign. In charge of one was a Guernseyman, Lieutenant R E Ferbrache RNVR, and one of the soldiers in the party was Sergeant H J Hamon, another islander. The British troops received a tremendous welcome as they landed at the White Rock, where they were officially greeted by Advocate J E L Martel (HM Procureur) and Police Inspector A Lamy.

Unofficially, they were hailed with exultation by a multitude of cheering islanders, some weeping for joy. Later in the day 200 more troops arrived and marched off the White Rock led by the band of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry which, before the war, had once formed our garrison. Many islanders came in from the country parishes in horse-drawn carts, on bicycles and on foot. Our liberators were overwhelmed at their reception. They gave away chocolate, sweets and cigarettes, receiving in return souvenir German money.

The Bailiff sent this message to King George VI: 'After nearly five years of German Occupation, the people of your Bailiwick of Guernsey respectfully beg Your Majesty to accept their humble duty and unshaken loyalty.' The King, in his reply, stated that our message had given him great pleasure and satisfaction. The Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, sent this telegram to the Bailiff: 'You should have heard the House of Commons cheer at the news of your Liberation.' The Bailiff replied: 'We are all deeply touched by, and grateful for your telegram conveying the enthusiasm of the House of Commons at our deliverance.'

Before the service, organ music will be played.

Please stand for the arrival of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, Lieutenant General Richard Cripwell CB, CBE, and Mrs Cripwell, the Bailiff of Guernsey, Mr Richard McMahon, and the President of the Policy & Resources Committee, Deputy Peter Ferbrache, who will be escorted to their places.

When the parade is ready to enter the church, all stand. The processional hymn is sung; the standards are brought forward.

All people that on earth do dwell,
sing to the Lord with cheerful voice;
him serve with fear, his praise forth tell,
come ye before him, and rejoice.

The Lord, ye know, is God indeed;
without our aid he did us make;
we are his folk, he doth us feed,
and for his sheep he doth us take.

O enter then his gates with praise, approach with joy his courts unto;
praise, laud, and bless his name always,
for it is seemly so to do.

For why? the Lord our God is good;
his mercy is for ever sure;
his truth at all times firmly stood,
and shall from age to age endure.

To Father, Son and Holy Ghost,
the God whom heaven and earth adore,
from men and from the angel-host be praise and glory evermore.

Words: William Kethe (d 1594)

Tune: Old Hundredth (Genevan Psalter, 1551)

All remain standing as the National Anthem is sung.

God save our gracious Queen,
long live our noble Queen,
God save the Queen.
Send her victorious,
happy and glorious,
long to reign over us:
God save the Queen.

Thy choicest gifts in store
on her be pleased to pour,
long may she reign.
May she defend our laws,
and ever give us cause
to sing with heart and voice,
God save the Queen.

Tune: Thesaurus Musicus, c. 1743*

The Welcome

The congregation sits. The Dean of Guernsey, the Very Reverend Tim Barker, says

It is a privilege to welcome you to this service: those in the Town Church, as well as those who are joining this service, whether in Guernsey or beyond the shores of this island, through other media.

Today is a celebration of the Liberation of Guernsey on Wednesday 9 May 1945. We recall that remarkable and glorious day when British troops came ashore in St Peter Port, ending the five long years of occupation of Guernsey by German troops, and giving hope of ending of the privations of the people of Guernsey, and of the return to the Island of those who spent the years of occupation in the United Kingdom, in Biberach, in Laufen or elsewhere.

Today is a day of thanksgiving for our continuing freedom and self-determination as a Crown Dependency.

But it is also a day of memories.

We remember the temporary exile of so many Guernsey people in the United Kingdom during the occupation of Guernsey and Alderney, and give thanks for those who welcomed and cared for them.

We remember the deportation of large numbers of local residents, including many of non-Guernsey origin, who had faced uncertain and dangerous times as prisoners in Germany, including the three Jewish women who were sent to Laval from where they were transported with others to Auschwitz Birkenau. We give thanks for those men and women who have forged links of reconciliation between former enemies. We celebrate the life springing from our years of reconciliation and friendship with the people of Biberach.

We remember those brought to these islands to work for the occupying forces, often in harsh and inhumane conditions.

For many people, today is a day for recalling painful and vivid memories of loss and separation, of hardship and deprivation, of fear and anxiety.

We know only too well that life and peace are both precious and fragile; and that too many people in our world do not know and enjoy the peace, security and prosperity in which we are privileged to live. We think particularly today about the people of Ukraine and Afghanistan, and those who live in other places which are blighted by war and violence.

And so, conscious of the sins of humanity and our own sins and failings, we turn to God.

The Prayers of Penitence

The Reverend Peter Graysmith, Mission Priest of St Peter Port, says

Let us confess to God the sins and shortcomings of the world;
its pride, its selfishness, its greed;
its evil distortions and hatreds.
Let us confess our share in what is wrong,
and our failure to seek and establish that peace which God wills for all his people.

Lord Jesus, you wept over the sins of your city.
On this Bailiwick of Guernsey: Lord, have mercy.

All Lord, have mercy.

Lord Jesus, you heal the wounds of sin and division,
jealousy and bitterness.
On us: Christ, have mercy.

All Christ, have mercy.

Lord Jesus, you bring pardon and peace to the sinner.
Grant us peace: Lord have mercy.

All Lord, have mercy.

May almighty God have mercy upon us; pardon and deliver us from all our sins; confirm and strengthen us in all goodness and keep us in eternal life;
through Jesus Christ our Lord.

All Amen.

The Collect

The Dean says

Almighty God,
from whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed:
kindle, we pray, in the hearts of all, the true love of peace and guide with your pure and peaceable wisdom those who take counsel for the nations of the earth that in tranquillity your kingdom may go forward, till the earth is filled with the knowledge of your love;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.

All Amen.

The First Reading

The Bailiff of Guernsey, Mr Richard McMahon, reads

The first letter of St Peter, chapter 2, verses 9 to 17

All stand to sing the hymn.

I vow to thee, my country, all earthly things above,
entire and whole and perfect, the service of my love:
the love that asks no question, the love that stands the test,
that lays upon the altar the dearest and the best;
the love that never falters, the love that pays the price,
the love that makes undaunted the final sacrifice.

And there's another country, I've heard of long ago, most dear to them that love her, most great to them that know;
we may not count her armies, we may not see her King;
her fortress is a faithful heart, her pride is suffering;
and soul by soul and silently her shining bounds increase,
and her ways are ways of gentleness and all her paths are peace.

Words: Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice (1859-1918)
Tune: Thaxted; adapted from Jupiter (The Planets)
by Gustav Holst (1874-1934)

The Second Reading

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, Lieutenant General Richard Cripwell CB, CBE, reads

St Luke's gospel, chapter 4, verses 16 to 22

All sit.

The Sermon

The Right Honourable and Right Reverend the Lord Chartres GCVO

Lord Chartres was the Bishop of London from 1995 until 2017.

Anthem

'O how glorious is the Kingdom'

Music by Philip W J Stopford (b 1977)
Words from Revelation 7 verse 9

The Town Church Choir directed by Mr Stephen Le Prevost

Prayers of Thanksgiving

The Reverend Howard Stringer, Superintendent Minister of the Guernsey Methodist Circuit, says

For the liberation of these Islands from enemy occupation;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For the fortitude and resilience of those who remained here throughout the occupation;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For those who were evacuated or deported from Guernsey, and safely returned to their families and homes;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For those who fought long and hard, and who prepared to bring about the Liberation which we celebrate today;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For the bonds of friendship which have been forged over the years, overcoming old hostilities;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For the freedom in this Bailiwick to order our affairs, and to live in liberty and in peace;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

For Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and the Royal Family;
All Lord, we give you thanks and praise.

Remembering all God's mercies, we say together:
All Eternal God, the refuge and help of all your people,
we give you thanks for all you have given us,
for all that you have done for us, for all that you are to us.
In our weakness, you are strength.
In our darkness, you are light.
In our sorrow, you are comfort and peace.
For all your goodness, we give you thanks.

May we live in your presence,
love the things that you love,
and serve you in our daily lives.
We ask this through Jesus Christ, our Lord.
Amen.

All stand to sing the hymn.

For the healing of the nations,
Lord, we pray with one accord,
for a just and equal sharing of the things that earth affords.
To a life of love in action
help us rise and pledge our word.

Lead us forward into freedom,
from despair your world release,
that, redeemed from war and hatred,
all may come and go in peace.
Show us how through care and goodness fear will die and hope increase.

All that kills abundant living,
let it from the earth be banned:
pride of status, race or schooling,
dogmas that obscure your plan.
In our common quest for justice may we hallow life's brief span.

You, Creator-God, have written your great name on humankind;
for our growing in your likeness
bring the life of Christ to mind;
that by our response and service earth its destiny may find.

Prayers of Intercession

The Reverend Canon Christopher Rutledge, Catholic Dean of the Bailiwick of Guernsey, says

God our Father, we pray for the Bailiwick of Guernsey; for our most gracious Sovereign Lady, Queen Elizabeth; for the Lieutenant Governor, the Bailiff, the Royal Court, the States of Deliberation and for all in authority. Grant them wisdom in all their work so that we may be governed with integrity and prosper with honour.

Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for people of goodwill the world over, who long for peace and justice. Inspire us all to work together for reconciliation, justice and peace, especially in troubled places of the world.

Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for the communities which gave hospitality to evacuees from Guernsey. We pray for the President and the people of Germany, and especially for the Mayor, Council and people of Biberach. Strengthen and use the bonds of friendship established with them as an example to all of the fruits of reconciliation.

Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for the forces of the Crown, especially those on active service in difficult and dangerous places; for all who bear arms on behalf of the nation, that they may have discipline and discernment, courage and compassion.

Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for our enemies and those who wish us harm, that you will turn the hearts of all to kindness and friendship.
Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for the wounded and the captive, the grieving and the homeless, for refugees, for all who suffer as the result of war, and especially for those from this Bailiwick of Guernsey who still bear the scars of war and separation, that in all their trials they may know your love and support.
Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

We pray for those who died during the occupation, both in Guernsey and in the concentration and deportation camps to which they were sent. We pray for those who died fighting to hasten the liberation of these islands.
Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

As we give thanks for the liberation of these islands, we pray for the people of Ukraine; for peace and the laying down of weapons; for those with power over war or peace; and for all who live at risk or in fear in Ukraine, Afghanistan and other places in the world.
Lord, hear us.

All Lord, graciously hear us.

As our Saviour has taught us, so we pray together:

All Our Father, who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come; thy will be done;
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation;
but deliver us from evil.

For thine is the kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever. Amen.

All stand to sing the hymn, during which a collection will be taken.

Lord, for the years your love has kept and guided,
urged and inspired us, cheered us on our way,
sought us and saved us, pardoned and provided,
Lord of the years, we bring our thanks today.

Lord, for that word, the word of life which fires us,
speaks to our hearts and sets our souls ablaze,
teaches and trains, rebukes us and inspires us,
Lord of the word, receive your people's praise.

Lord, for our land, in this our generation, spirits oppressed by pleasure, wealth and care;
for young and old, for commonwealth and nation,
Lord of our land, be pleased to hear our prayer.

Lord, for our world; when we disown and doubt him,
loveless in strength, and comfortless in pain;
hungry and helpless, lost indeed without him,
Lord of the world, we pray that Christ may reign.

Lord, for ourselves; in living power remake us,
self on the cross and Christ upon the throne;
past put behind us, for the future take us,
Lord of our lives, to live for Christ alone.

Words: Timothy Dudley-Smith (born 1926)

Tune: Lord of the years

Michael Baughen (born 1930)

Act of Commitment

All remain standing. The Dean of Guernsey says

We have given thanks for the Liberation of Guernsey seventy-seven years ago in 1945.
Let us now make a commitment to be agents of peace and reconciliation in the world in whatever ways lie open to us.

All Lord God our Father,
we pledge ourselves to serve you and all humanity
in the cause of peace, freedom and reconciliation;
to relieve the plight of the poor;
to care for the lonely and friendless;
to model the highest standards of probity and integrity
in all that we do;
and to work for the furtherance of your kingdom
on earth.
Give us the courage and determination to work for the fulfilment of this pledge;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Blessing

The Dean of Guernsey says

God grant to the living, grace;
to the departed, rest;
to the Church, the Queen, the Commonwealth and all people,
unity, peace and concord;
and to us and all God's servants, life everlasting;
and the blessing of God almighty,
the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit,
be among you and remain with you always.

All Amen.

All sing the hymn, during which the standards are returned.

God is our strength and refuge,
our present help in trouble,
and we therefore will not fear,
though the earth should change!
Though mountains shake and tremble,
though swirling floods are raging,
God the Lord of hosts is with us evermore!

There is a flowing river
within God's holy city;
God is in the midst of her -
she shall not be moved!
God's help is swiftly given,
thrones vanish at his presence -
God the Lord of hosts is with us evermore!

Come, see the works of our maker,
learn of his deeds all-powerful:
wars will cease across the world
when he shatters the spear!
Be still and know your creator,
uplift him in the nations -
God the Lord of hosts is with us evermore!
